NEWSLETTERS

ICES members receive the 28-page ICES newsletter eleven times a year. The newsletter showcases color photos of cakes and sugar art by ICES members and is designed to keep you informed about decorating techniques, upcoming events and ICES news. We actively solicit articles and photography from our membership and would be delighted to hear from you!

Are you interested in cake decorating? Would you like to improve your sugar art skills? Join ICES, where you will meet phenomenal sugar artists, attend cake shows throughout the year and learn to decorate spectacular cakes for all occasions from amazing instructors. Whether you'd like to learn more about sugar art, or if you've been teaching for years, ICES has a place just for you.

Until you have been to an ICES Convention and been inspired by the hundreds of sugar art displays, until you have attended demos by such renowned instructors as Colette Peters, Kerry Vincent, Nicholas Lodge or Betty Van Norstrand (and so many more), until you have spoken to the authors of your favorite cake decorating books, until you have walked the aisles of the Vendor's room to choose the latest greatest tools and inventions, until you have participated in a "hands-on" demo ... until then? Why, until that time, my friend, you simply haven't been to an ICES Convention, the biggest and best of ICES events. Visit ICES.org for updated convention information.

The ICES membership is all-encompassing. Student meets instructor. Master decorators sit at the same table as part-time hobbyists. ICES members' sugar art has been displayed at home and abroad on television and in the print media. Some of our members are authors and respected judges and others are students; but all find common ground in the love of sugar art, and everyone is welcome.

The International Cake Exploration Societé (ICES) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to the promotion of cake decorating and sugar arts. ICES has more than 3500 members including amateur, professional and master decorators, teachers, authors, shop owners, wholesalers and manufacturers of related products. In addition to the annual convention, meetings, get-togethers and "Days of Sharing" are held throughout the year in individual states and countries.
